

MOTORCYCLE SKILLS TEST POLICY

Due to a change in SC law, the following is now in effect:

MOTORCYCLE SKILLS TESTING

If you fail the motorcycle (Class M) skills test three times, you cannot take the test again at any SCDMV branch. After failing the test three times, you must complete and pass an SCDMV-approved motorcycle safety course to receive a motorcycle license.

If you have no previous driving experience and fail the motorcycle skills test on your first or second try, you must wait two weeks before testing again. If you have previous driving experience, you may retest after one week.

MOTORCYCLE BEGINNER'S PERMIT RENEWALS

You may not renew a motorcycle beginner's permit more than three times. If you have a motorcycle beginner's permit, you must make a bona fide attempt to pass the motorcycle skills test before your permit may be renewed.

The SCDMV motorcycle beginner's permit and license policy is based on SC Code of Law 56-1-50.
